

The following rule changes are amendments to the current AASBD rulebook:

The following is the change to rule C-4.03, this also eliminates rule C-8.02d:

*A participant in the Rally program is eligible to race in the AASBD World Championship Race as a Rally Champion a second time in each division if the following criteria are met:

- a. They are age appropriate for the Division in which they are competing.
 - b. If eligible, they must race in their Local race in the stock or super stock division regardless of the rally division in which they are competing. Exceptions to this would be if they are not age appropriate for a division, they already won their local race in stock and/or Super stock, or they are rally racing in the Masters division and have not won a Local race in the Masters Division (as they must race in a Local Masters Race).
 - c. Participants must use a car that meets all current rules and building specifications. Cars that have been used in a previous AASBD World Championship Race in Akron, Ohio may continue to be used by the SAME participant as long as it meets all other current rules and building specifications.
- This rule is effective September 3, 2011 through July 31, 2012

Current A-7.09 Rule:

A-7.09 If a car participated in an AASBD World Championship Race, the original participant may continue to race the car until a Rally Champion and Local Champion status is achieved (age restrictions apply).

Updated A-7.09 Change:

A-7.09 If a car participated in an AASBD World Rally Championship Race, the original participant may continue to race the car until a 2nd Rally Championship and a Local Championship status is achieved (age restrictions apply).

Rule C-16.01a would no longer be necessary:

C-16.01 A participant is permitted to compete in Rally Races as a “Non-Point Earner” if he or she meets one of the following criteria:

- a. The participant is a former Rally Regional Title winner (previously called “Rally District Title” winner) who has competed in the AASBD World Championship as a Rally Champion and is still rallying in the same division. See exception Rule C-4.03.
